AWFUL TRAGEDY.

An Unfaithful Wife Adds to Her Perfidy.

THE MURDER OF HUSBAND AND

Child by Burning the House Down on Them—in Trying to Escape With the Object of Her Fancy She and Her Escort Are Attacked by a Mad Bull and Gored to Death

By Associated Press to The News.

BRISTOL, Tenn., April 22—News has reached here of a terrible double tragedy which occurred across the border in the mountain regions in Kentucky, Syl Harvell was a very well to do farmer of that section. He had been married about three years and had lived in comparative happiness with his wife. A few days ago, however, he made the startling discovery that his wife was intimate with a young man named Alex Bradley and violently abused her for infidelity. Monday night Mrs. Harvell thoroughly saturated with kerosene the bed on which her husband and infant were sleeping and threw a firebrand thereon and dashed out of the door. The building was soon wrapped in flames. Among those attracted to the scene by the fire was Bradley. After looking on a few moments, he and Mrs. Harvell started away together across a field and were attacked by a savage bull and gored to death. Mrs. Harvell lived a few hours and acknowledged the facts as related above.

NEW ORLEANS, April 22—Phil Baker was hanged in the Parish prison at 12:56 this afternoon, his was neck broken. He protested his innocence to the last. His attorney applied to the supreme court for a writ of injunction to stay the execution, but Judge Fennel refused it. Etienne Deschamps, who was to have hanged at the same time as Baker, was reprieved by Gov. Nichols two hours before the time of execution. The reprieve is to give the board of pardons time to investigate the matter and does not state how long it will be in effect.

DISTRICT COURT

The case of D. D. Noel, charged with theft, came up for trial this morning in the district court and resulted in his acquittal. This case has created much interest ever since the charge was made.

The facts connected with the matter are that Constable Dee Cook levied upon a safe, the property of Levy Bro., in which it was thought that Noel had considerable money to satisfy a judgment against him and in favor of W. E. Dupree. It was charged that while in the hands of the office Mr. Noel opened the safe and took out something supposed to be the attached money. A charge of theft was lodged against him and a suit was brought against the constable to recover the amount of the judgment, which is still pending in the county court.

It could not be proved that Mr. Noel had any money in the safe or that he took any therefrom, and, Judge Goodrich instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

COUNTY COURT.

George Nattock, a young man of good address and apparently of average intelligence, pleaded guilty this morning in the county court to theft of a saddle valued at $10. He was fined $10 and given one day in the county jail. Before entering the plea he stated that the evidence was against him, but that he was innocent and only desired to plead guilty because it would be the cheapest and quickest way to get out of the trouble. Judge Jenkins advised him if not really guilty, not to enter that plea, but rather lie in jail the remainder of his natural life than acknowledge that he had committed such a grave offense and cast a stigma upon himself and family, which could never be effaced. He, however, thought it would be better to enter the plea.

It was afterwards learned that this was the second offense of the kind committed by him and the second plea of guilty entered.

THE WYOMING AFFAIR.

ONE OF THE REGULATORS CAPTURED AND GIVEN THE

Scheme Away—Regulators Lured by the Secretary of the State Commission, Given $6 a Day and $50 Apiece for Every Corpse.

By Associated Press to The News.

DENVER, Col., April 22.—A special from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: Jim Dudley, alias Gus Green, of Texas, who was wounded with the rustlers, died Saturday night and was buried in Buffalo Sunday. The stock men put up $25 to pay his funeral expenses. A man named A. C. Dunning who hailed from Dakota, is now in jail at Buffalo. He was one of the party of regulators. He reached here Friday and was arrested on suspicion by the sheriff on Sunday after having been kicked and cuffed about the streets of Buffalo as one of the invading army. He states that he was hired by the secretary of the state commission and the plan proposed was simply blood-curdling in its atrocity. Dunning had a letter in his pocket directed to an intimate friend in which he gave away the whole story. This letter is in possession of the sheriff along with a lot of other evidence. He says that Champion and Ray had been warned and would not have been killed if they had heeded the warning. The hired assassins, he says, were to get $6 a day and $50 a piece for every man killed. He says it cost $3000 to get Champion and Ray.
